by the normal eye. In that case we should see things with our eyes closed, when such a lamp were made to burn. What light can make visible when the eyes are open* darkness will do so when closed.

Now to begin with the next incident in the course of our narrative. There occurred an incident that took the whole asylum by surprise one afternoon, while Major Leet Paik happened tc be the supdt. in charge of our asylum. Some time ago there had come to our asylum a man by name Elyia Goundon sent there for treatment from some other jail. When he came there, at first he seemed to show no very apparent signs of insanity or violence, but only appeared to be labouring under a very peculiar delusion. My readers perhaps remember how it happened that I had been under the delusion that I was being sent home while coming away from the Andamans. The very same thing seemed to happen to this Elyia Goundon while he was being transferred to the lunatic asylum; and when he came to our asylum for the first time, he appeared ever so eager to go lorne that he would ask any one and every

:>ne when he was to be sent away and so on,
